

Call for Papers

Joint University courses for kindergarten and primary school

Kindergartens and primary schools are made for the same children. What is established by kindergarten offers is the basis for school learning in a child's life. Nevertheless, the traditions of both institutions as well as the traditional training of the personnel are rather different. At present, the University of Bremen develops a model that describes how personnel for Kindergarten and Primary School can be trained in the same university courses. In Germany, this combination is new. But in numerous other countries in the world there are already joint courses. We would like to learn from other institutions' experiences and therefore we invite to an international conference in Bremen.

This conference will take place on 2nd and 3rd February 2007.

You can register and send your abstract for your presentation, team contribution, poster presentations and other creative forms until end of December.
